Secretary's staff meeting.

Mr. Johnstone brought in an IIA orientation group from the Far East.

Mike McDermott came in with Peter Lisagor of the Chicago Daily News, Paul Ward of the Baltimore Sun, and Walter Waggoner of the New York Times.

Lunched in my office with Phil Jessup and George Perkins.

Manly Fleischmann came to tell me [redacted] he wants to consider the matter of an Ambassadorial appointment, and talk it over with John Allison and Dean Rusk. He has promised to give me an answer by June 10.

Saw Jack McFall for his regular appointment.

Walter Radius came in and, at Carl Rumelsine's request, I urged him to take the job of Director of the Management Staff, which he agreed to do.

Had a long talk with Phil Bonsal. Afterwards, John Allison came in.

Jack McFall talked to me about a visa case in which Congressman Celler is interested.

Long meeting in the Secretary's office with Jessup, Matthews, and others, to go over a telecon which took place with Paris this afternoon, concerning the plans for the Secretary's trip.
